JINNAH SINDH MEDICAL UNIVERSITY

The revolutionary advance in communication, information technology,e-commerce, multimedia and digital appliances; together with the wide availability of hardware to mainstream users, has changed the way we live and penetrated every aspect of our day-to-day life. The rapid increase in internet coverage, with broadband more than doubling each year, more and more users are reaching the internet with hand-held devices, depending on location based services and sharing digital content through multiple approaches. Younger generations are becoming knowledgeable about technology and using it very easily in their routine activities.

We as a nation must adopt e-learning in our educational systems to stay ourselves in the main stream of technological advancements. Jinnah Sindh Medical Universityis committed to take a historical lead to affect many generations to change their lives. JSMU is now offering online interactive courses in addition to traditional classroom teachings, a concept of blended learning modules.